

Not a sound could be heard when author Jane O'Connor entered room 106 to present her latest book in her Fancy Nancy series. We looked quite marvelous in our fanciest attire as we listened attentively to the antics of Nancy at Christmastime. Following the reading, author O'Connor answered questions the children prepared earlier in the week. The children then learned a very fancy way to keep good posture when walking. Ms. O'Connor then toured our classroom and marveled at the unique artwork the children created to make her feel very welcome in our school. She was most grateful for the heartwarming wreath the children made with the help of Mrs. Allen. Please take a moment to thank Mrs. Flowers for coordinating this amazing author visit.
